Facts About the Locust.

One of the most interesting insects in the world is the American periodical Cicada, or so-called 17-year locust. Every seventeen years in given localities in the Northern States, and every thirteen years in given localities in the Southern States, this sizable but rather frail insect comes out of the ground in great numbers—sometimes in incredible numbers—and for a few weeks pierces the air with its shrilling. It sometimes happens that in certain localities it will appear at more frequent intervals. Thus in 1902 it appeared in parts of Maryland, New Jersey and Eastern Pennsylvania, and in the present year it will again appear in the same general region. But this does not mean that those which will appear this year are the children of those that laid eggs in 1902; they belong to a different brood, and their immediate parents were flying and laying eggs in 1894, while the children of the 1902 brood will not issue as adults until 1919.

There are many of these so-called broods, all accurately mapped and their appearance can be predicted with certainty. The 17-year brood of the present year, for example, running from North Carolina up to Albany, N. Y., and occurring also in Connecticut, has been reported every seventeen years since 1724 in Connecticut, and in New Jersey since 1776. Many changes have occurred in the 187 years elapsing between 1724 and 1911. Many a generation of Cicada larvae have gone into the ground for their long years of larval life, emerging at last to the surface only to find in many instances that in the seventeen years a house or a paved street or possibly a whole town has covered the surface.

There are thus two distinct races of the periodical Cicada. The northern, or 17-year race stays under the ground seventeen years, except for a few weeks. The southern, or 13-year race occupies only thirteen years in its subterranean growth. And occasionally, as will happen the present year, a brood of each race will make its appearance. On the whole, for one reason or another, most of the great broods are growing smaller. This is due in part to the gradual change in the face of the country through civilization, and partly, in our cities, to the work of the English sparrow now become so annoyingly abundant. Exact records of the appearance of the Cicada have been kept for many years and it is therefore possible to predict their appearances with exactitude for many years to come. In 1912 they will come out over most of Iowa; in 1913 in Southwestern Iowa and southward through Eastern Kansas and Western Missouri into the Indian Territory and possibly into Texas. In 1914 a compact brood will appear all through Eastern Ohio and over most of West Virginia, and in 1915 a scattering brood will be found through Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky.

Democratic Candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The alarm always caused by the appearance or announced appearance of this insect is largely unjustified. They take practically no food, and injure trees only by the unfortunate way in which they lay their eggs.

They begin to come out about the end of May or early in June, and are active as adult Cicadas for four or five weeks. After mating the female lays her eggs by working her strong ovipositor into tender twigs of many different kinds of trees, inserting her eggs under the bark and in the sapwood in a line along the axis of the twig.

Twigs thus attacked usually die; where the Cicada is numerous these terminal twigs with dead leaves are frequently so abundant as to make it appear as if a patch of woodland has been seriously injured. The eggs begin to hatch late in July, and the active little larvae drop to the ground and burrow beneath the surface, where they remain until the end of May of the seventeenth year thereafter. These larvae are not grub-like, but are active, four-legged creatures and burrow readily through the soil by means of enlarged forelegs. They do not seem to injure the roots of plants, but to derive their sustenance from the organic matter contained in soil moisture.

In late spring of the seventeenth year, they have passed through their last molt and have become pupae, but in this stage they are as active as before. Sometimes reaching the surface of the soil, they will build little cones or chimneys of earth above the surface of the soil, building upward continually for several weeks before the time of issuing. Why they should build these chimneys or turrets or huts, as they have been called, has been a puzzling matter for the people who have written about it. They seem to be made when the soil is shallow or when there is some unusual warmth which brings the pupae to the surface in advance of the normal time and also sometimes when the soil is exceedingly moist. The conditions, in other words, must be somewhat abnormal or the chimneys are not constructed.

When the proper time arrives, the pupae leave the ground almost with a rush. They all come out nearly together and scramble for some tree trunk, fence or bush. On such base the climb upward for a considerable distance and then seize hold firmly and rest. This scramble from the ground begins always just at sundown and continues until nine or ten o'clock in the evening. About an hour after they have risen and fixed themselves, the skin begins to burst along the back of the thorax and the adult Cicada slowly crawls out. In from twenty minutes to an hour or more the issuance is complete, and the newly issued adult, white in color with red eyes, clings either to the pupa shell or to the bark of the tree or to other objects upon which the pupa may be fixed, and gradually the wings expand and dry, and during the night the dark brownish color of the insect becomes evident.

The Cicada has not many natural specific enemies, and this is quite to be expected from its rare appearance. Nevertheless, many birds feed upon it with avidity, and the English sparrow, rather contrary to its normal habits, seems to begin a prolonged feasting whenever the Cicada comes. So generally are the Cicadas destroyed in the neighborhood of cities by this city nuisance that each year the broods have become smaller since this sparrow was brought to this country. One of the natural enemies is the largest of the digger wasps. This wasp stores its burrows with Cicadas. The periodical Cicada as a rule appears too early for the wasp, which finds the bulk of its prey in the common dog-day harvest fly that comes out after the seventeen-year locust has disappeared, but many of the late-flying seventeen-year Cicadas are captured by the earliest of the wasps to issue, are stung by them and carried away and packed in the long wasp burrows beneath the ground.

The eggs of the Cicada are preyed upon by certain mites, and there is a little internal parasite which destroys them as well.

It sometimes happens that orchards located on cleared lands or in the vicinity of standing forests are very seriously injured by the Cicadas laying their eggs; but on the whole they do little damage. Where damage of this kind is feared, the remedies consist in destroying the pupae as they arise from the ground and while they are more or less torpid and sluggish. A very strong solution of kerosene emulsion has also been used with excellent effect. It should be sprayed over the pupae and newly formed adults in the early evening. A heavy coat of whitewash on the trees will keep them away to some extent when there are other trees in the neighborhood. Bordeaux mixture seems to have some effect of the same kind. Owners of young orchard forewarned of the coming on a brood of Cicadas, should neglect all pruning operations during the winter and spring in order that their trees may be pruned for them by the Cicadas, thus distributing the damage over a larger surface. Another precaution when a Cicada year is expected is to defer the planting of orchards, especially in the vicinity of old forest land, until the danger is past.

Begins June 11th.

The Christian Church, in this city, for some time has been arranging for a series of meetings, beginning Sunday, June 11. For part of the time, during the first of the meeting, the preaching will be done by the pastor, Rev. Horace Siberell, the music will be in charge of Prof. Ross S. Davis, of Greenfield, Ind. Prof. Davis has the reputation of being a fine leader of song and evangelistic worker.

We trust that these meetings will be of great benefit to the city of Hickman, both spiritually and religiously. While the religious and moral sentiment is not greater in any of the neighboring towns, than it is in Hickman, still we are sure that every one who is desirous of the building up of the morals and religious and christian sentiment will be glad to increase these sentiments by helping in every way they can to make these meetings successful.

Mr. Lowe, of Mayfield, was in this city yesterday looking for a building in which to establish a dry goods store. It is almost unnecessary to say that he was unable to find a vacant business house. Hickman cannot grow unless some arrangements are made for more business houses.

Released on Bond.

Ben Whitson and — Northern, who were arrested last week after a shooting scrape with Ed Dyer, at Madrid Bend, waived examination Thursday, and were released from jail on $500 bonds. They will await the action of the grand jury.

Dyer, whom the physicians at first claimed had only a few hours to live, is now in fair way to recovery. The contents of a shotgun and a pistol were both emptied into his body, inflicting what seemed to be fatal wounds but they were not as bad as first reported. There is strong hope for him surviving.

There is an unprecedented demand for dwelling houses in Hickman at present. We can name a dozen people who are willing to take any kind of a house they can find—but there are none. The new local agent of the C. M. & G. cannot find a house and two or three others connected with the road would locate here if possible. If local capital will not handle the proposition, outsiders should be interested in the matter. A hundred more residences could be rented.

Dry Weather Serious.

According to the statistics of the weather bureau, May, 1911, has been the hottest May in 17 years. It has now been about 33 days since this immediate section has had a good rain.

Unless we get rain at once, crops are going to be seriously damaged; especially the corn crop, many acres of which has not yet been planted. Weather forecasters have predicted wet weather more or less for three weeks past—but evidently, "all signs fall in dry weather."

In short, we are in the throes of a drought, and people, live stock and growing crops are feeling its effect.

Ward. This is a clever set of fellows, and its a cinch they had a time to be long remembered. There were in all about twenty in attendance. Of course, most of the Hickman physicians were there.

Fire at Fulton.

Fulton suffered a $50,000 fire on Tuesday morning when flames started in and destroyed the W. K. Hall lumber yards and buildings. The fire really started in a barn belonging to the lumber company, and is thought to have been of incendiary origin. The lumber company places their loss at $50,000 with $20,000 insurance.

The Fulton Bottling Co., also sustained a loss amounting to $3,000, with $1,000 insurance.

SERVING HAM FOR LUNCHEON

Directions for Preparing Some Simple but Delicious and Tasty Dishes.

For luncheon, grind the ends of a boiled ham and mix it with a button onion that has been chopped fine and a little minced parsley. Put the mixture into a pan with a little butter and moisten with hot water or cream. Simmer four or five minutes and then heap on slices of toast.

For curly bacon, cut it very thin and half cook it in boiling water. Then curl it, fasten it in shape with a toothpick and broil it over the fire.

A little grated American cheese mixed with the minced ham used in a sandwich is delicious if the sandwich is fried brown and served very hot.

Sliced ham is more tender if it is baked than if fried. Cut a slice three-quarters of an inch thick, put it into a small agate pan, turn three-quarters of a cupful of milk over it, cover and bake for an hour and a quarter, basting every 15 minutes with the milk.

Cold cooked ham is tasty if it is shredded and cooked in currant jelly sauce. Put a cupful of the shredded ham into a saucepan with a level tablespoonful of butter and half a cupful of currant jelly. As soon as the jelly and butter begin to bubble add four tablespoonfuls of sherry and a seasoning of paprika. Simmer the mixture about five or six minutes and serve with toast.

BOON TO WINDOW WASHERS

Can Go About Work Without Fear of Sudden Death on Pavement Below.

Much of the risk in the calling of window cleaning has been eliminated by the invention of a New York man. This invention is a safety appliance which enables a window washer to go about his or her work without fear of meeting a sudden and horrible death on the pavement, 18 or 20 stories below. First there is a belt, with rings around it. Then there is a cable of two strands which join in a loop to which a hook is attached. The cable fastens to the belt by the rings. The washer straps the belt around his waist and takes his position on the window sill. The cable, as shown in the illustration, hangs inside and the hook can be anchored to some heavy piece of furniture or to another hook in the floor or subbase near the window. While this device was designed primarily for professional window cleaners, it will be found useful in private houses, especially where the servants are timid.

Mince Meat.

Two bowls of finely chopped meat, four bowls of apples, two bowls of raisins, one bowl of currants, one bowl of sugar and one-half bowl of suet, one-third pound of citron, one-half cup of New Orleans molasses, two teaspoons of mace and two of ground cinnamon, one teaspoon of cloves, two nutmegs, salt. Mix all together, add cider, and cook thoroughly. This recipe has been used by many good cooks and has been found to be an excellent one. The "bowl" referred to holds one and one-half pints.

Little One At Rest.

Little Kenneth Housley, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Housley, of this city, was called to rest yesterday afternoon at 3:30. Had he lived until June 3, he would have been four years old.

He was a sweet little fellow and possessed extraordinary intelligence. His long suffering and patient endurance was indeed pathetic. Several months ago he lost his sight although every possible effort was made to help him. Death was due to an optic nerve trouble.

The remains were carried to Nashville, last night, for interment—the former home of his parents.

He is survived by his parents and one little sister, Inez.

Cafe Noir.

Put three tablespoonfuls of finely ground coffee in the top of a French coffee pot. Pour over half pint boiling water. Do not allow the coffee to boil. After it has run through into the space below pour off and run through the top a second time. This should be done four or five times. Always be sure to have a cover for the spout. The coffee pot should be carefully scalded before it is used and be kept bright and free from grounds. This amount is sufficient for a small family, as it is served in tiny cups.

Baker Apple Slump.

Take a well buttered deep pudding dish and slice into it enough tart, juicy apples to fill. Season with cinnamon and nutmeg. Sweeten plentifully, add a tablespoonful of butter, cut in little bits, and cover with a soft biscuit dough, stirred to a consistency to pour, but not roll. Bake in a hot oven and serve with a hard sauce or foamy as preferred.

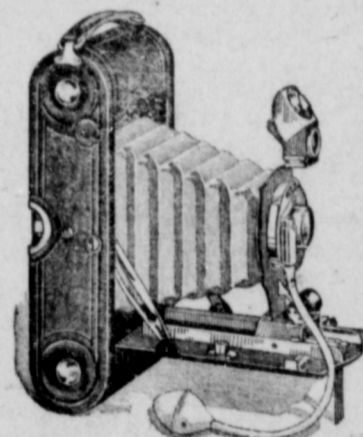

A Delicious Roast.

Arrange alternately slices of fresh pork. Between which put a dressing made as for stuffed meats, tie together and steam through until tender. Remove top cover of dripping pan and let come to delicate brown. Lay on lettuce leaves and serve with tomato sauce.

We say "Kodak" advisedly. We do not merely mean camera, but the particular make of camera that bears the Eastman trade mark "Kodak". The satisfactory results that it has given to our customers justify us in specifying "Kodak".

Your vacation will mean more to you, if you Kodak. Not only more pleasure at the time, but afterward, the added pleasure that will come from the pictures.

Let us show you how simple it all is by the Kodak system. Our stock is very complete and we are always glad to give photographic help to an amateur.

Police Court News.

The matinee session of Judge Rem-ley's court, Monday afternoon, was enlivened with a comedy sketch in the trial of Mose Barkett, charged with assaulting Tom Andrews. The alleged offense was the out-come of a balance of 15c owed to the defendant by Mr. Andrews. Honest Mose pleaded his own case to the jury, ad-monishing them to make allowance for what City Attorney Davis would have to say. The jury, however, fined Mose $5.

Mose swore out a warrant for Andrews and he was tried for disturbing the peace. He was found not guilty.
In either instance, the case amounted to virtually nothing.

J. W. White, the West Hickman groceryman, was next called to answer to the charge of breach of the peace Saturday night, and to administering exorcism punishment. Mr.
White told the jury that he was unwilling to spare the rod and spoil the child—in fact, he was of the opinion that the boy hadn't received more than half he needed. About a dozen witnesses were called in the case, after some deliberation, the jury was unable to agree. Mr. White will have another hearing Friday morning.
Since our last report Jim Rhodes was fined $20 for committing fornication.

Ben Smith, for carrying concealed weapons, $25.
Jim Dunn, violating local option law, $60.

Jim Dunn, Grant White, Ed Totten,

Other petit offences, summed up as breaches of the peace and fines assessed at $5 each, were given the following: Sallie Hersey, C. A.

Commencement.

Commencement exercises of Hickman College were held at the Lyric last Thursday night. The night was very warm but the house was filled to its capacity.

The program rendered by the graduates was interesting and each individual effort was applauded. Miss M. Williamson, a member of a Louisville choir, and a singer of no mean ability, was on the program for several appreciated numbers.

The impersonations of Misses Virginia Royster and Blanche Helm were especially good and showed much work had been done in preparation.

Prof. Gabby, in a few well chosen words, presented the diplomas.

Friday night the musical department under Miss Mena Diestelbrink, gave an entertainment at the Lyric, which was also well attended.

The musical numbers, drills, etc., were well rendered, and showed that satisfied with the good work that has been accomplished.

A Helpless Invalid

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

A woman who is sick and suffering, and won't at least try a medicine which has the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is, it would almost seem, to blame for her own wretchedness. Read what this woman says:

Richmond, Mo. — "When my second daughter was eighteen months old I was pronounced a hopeless invalid by specialists.
I had a consultation of doctors and they said I had a severe case of ulceration. I was in bed for ten weeks, had sinking spells, and was pronounced to be in a dangerous condition. My father insisted that we try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and brought me six bottles. I soon began to improve, and before it had all been taken I was as well and strong as ever—my friends hardly recognized me so great was the change." — Mrs.
Woodson Braustetter, Richmond, Mo.

There are literally hundreds of thousands of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over thirty years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering.

Read what another woman says:—

Jonesboro, Texas. — "I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for myself and daughter, and consider it unequalled for all female diseases. I would not be without it for anything. I wish every mother in America could be persuaded to use it as there would be less suffering among our sex then.
I am always glad to speak a word of praise for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and you are at liberty to use this testimonial." — Mrs. James T. Lawrence, Jonesboro, Texas.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering from the same trouble?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine.
Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand, write to Mrs.
Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for her advice—it is free and always helpful.

U. S. Tariff Commission Cannot Prevent Higher Prices on Shoes

Shoe prices in this country are fixed by the Leather Trust.
The Trust has a throttling grip on the tanneries.

It regulates the quantity of leather. It fixes the price of that leather.
Worse than that—it influences the quality of all leather.

If cheaper shoes—if better shoes—mean anything to you and your family, you must strike for yourself—Get Endicott-Johnson shoes. Endicott, Johnson & Co. are the only shoe manufacturers in this country who are independent of the Leather Trust.

They buy their hides in the open markets of the world. They own their tanneries—they tan every pound of leather they put into their shoes. They sell direct to your home shoe dealer, cutting out the profits of four distinct middlemen.

Endicott-Johnson shoes save you 50 cents to $1.00 on every pair—and they give you service, style, fit and comfort that you simply cannot get in any other shoes at any price.

The ENDWELL (Goodyear Welt) is their dress or business shoe—$3.00, $3.50 and $4.00.

ENDWELL shoes give you every choice of style—snappy, up to the minute lines, or the more conservative cut—any width and shape of toe—all the colors of leather. Good fitting—exquisitely finished—easy to the foot.

Look for this name stamped in every shoe—

Letter from Syria

BY A. S. BARKETT

JOURNEYING THROUGH THE "HOLY LAND"

Judedit, Margoon,
Syria, Turkey.

May 5, 1911.

Messrs. Speer & Sexton, Hickman, Ky., U. S. A.

Dear Friends:

Now comes the time for A. S. to fill his promise and write about his travels in the land of Christ, so all of my friends who are readers of the Courier may know.

On April 10th I started out on the journey, accompanied by mother, wife Mabel, Anisic, Howard Said and one of my cousins to help us on our trip. The first night we stayed with my brother on our farm, as we took a late start. There my brother killed a lamb for us and we had a big time.
Next morning we started out south towards the Lake of Haula and as we had to go horseback, brother sent 3 men to help us on the road till we got to a place where we could hire a carriage to take us to Jerusalem.
We went slowly that day for the sake of the little baby, through the valley of Haula. After three hours travel we got to a place called the spring of Baiala. There is a big spring of water bursting out of a rock and close to it an old sacred place, honored and respected by the Mohammedans.
There I noticed a large locust tree, which seemed to be 400 or 500 years old. The Mohammedans look for that tree to cure them when they get sick.
They tie a rag to one of its limbs naming it for their sick, believing that such a rag tied to a part of the tree does cure them. We spent over two hours under that holy tree, ate dinner, made coffee, smoked the Turkish pipe and drank some water.
We rode on until we got to a place called Ja'Anna, a town of 2000 inhabitants, most of whom are Jews who emigrated from Europe and given homes, land and stock for a certain time by a Jewish society. These people have all the modern improvements on their farms, orchards of all kinds of fruits, and houses built on the American style. The streets are wide with trees set along the walks.
The farmers cultivate the land as in America. We spent the night in the hotel and left next morning for Tiber-ia, a ride of six hours on an awfully rough road in a rocky country.

A short distance from Ja'Anna, we came to Jacob's Well, the well which Joseph's brothers, while in the wilderness grazing their sheep, and Joseph the beloved son of Jacob, was sent to see his brothers in the far off country, and who was envied by them during his visit to his brothers. They thought of getting rid of him, so he was placed in that well which is still standing on the top of a little rough hill owned by the Mohammedans. The story of Joseph is well known to all Bible readers and how he got in the hands of Egyptian merchants. Near the well we saw a huge and rough building of old. They say it has been standing 1300 years, built by Snan Basha. It is built more like a fort than a house, its walls being about four yards thick; the stock yard is enclosed by huge and high walls, so as to keep enemies from invading them so easy.

After lunch we got on our horses and rode to a place called the well of Munya. Here also is an old house said to have been built some time before Christ, close to the shore of the Sea of Galilee, where there are some fine buildings erected by the French Monks, which they call a French Convent. They own a fine lot of ground, raising on it wheat, barley and all kinds of vegetables. The monks live better than the president of the United States. They have a fine orchard and a fine place to live.
They are as fat as hogs. We resumed our journey along the shore of Galilee until we got to the city of Tiberia along the banks of the sea.
An old city with walls all around it, with 20,000 people, mostly Jews some Christians and foreigners and Mohammedans. We spent two nights at the German hotel where we met some American, English, German and French tourists, who were here specially to see the country and the Sea of Galilee, where Christ walked the water.
The sea is about ten times larger than Reelfoot Lake, situated in a valley surrounded by mountains, except from the northern part where the rivers empty into it, and where the waters of the sea empty into the Dead Sea. The water of the sea is sweet and good to drink; with plenty of good fish. We ate fish out of the sea while we were in Tiberia. The shore of the sea is rock in some places and sand in others. Near the city there is a Jewish and a German colony who are upstate farmers, living in good houses, which shows that they are doing well and making money.
Between the 10th and 15th of April they had plenty of squash, radishes, cabbage, cucumbers which I know you did not have in Hickman at that time. About a mile and a half south of Tiberia is the famous sulphur water of Tiberia. A true story is that the Springs used to belong to King Solomon and that he and his staff would spend the winter season in Tiberia and the summer in Jerusalem. They still call the building that King Solomon built above the springs "King Solomon's Bath House." The springs are close to the shore of the Sea of Galilee and the hot sulphur water pours out in two large streams about 400 yards apart. The water is so warm that one can hardly bear it two minutes.
I and mother bathed in it; it is the best thing on earth for rheumatism and like ailments. Sick people from all over the world come here. The water is piped from the springs to the bath houses, and some of your readers may doubt the natural heat of the water.

The day we spent at the hotel was a rainy one, but most of the hotel guests went in boats out on the sea of upper Galilee where the ruins of the synagogues are still standing. I wish that every American could visit the holy land—the land of Christ —to see all the buildings, forts and walls of the olden times, that are still standing and will stand as long as the world lasts. You don't know how I longed for about 20 Hickman friends to have been with me on our journey through the Holy Land.

After spending two nights in Tiberia, we hired a 3-horse carriage to Jerusalem—a four days drive. It cost us $20. On April 15th we started on our trip to Nazareth, a distance of about 30 miles. The roads were slick from showers and we had a hard time pulling the hills. About five miles from Tiberia we saw some fine land. We saw the mountain of Tore where Christ used to visit often.
We saw two large convents—one for French and one for Russian monks.
The mountain is round like an orange. A few miles further on we came to a place called Kana el Ga-leel, and today called Kufer-Kenna.
This little town was the old home of Joseph and Mary, the parents of Jesus, and where Joseph had his carpenter shop. In this place there is a big French convent with a big church built right on the spot where Joseph and Mary lived. The monks are doing a great work for Christians in Syria. The little town of Kana still looks old and humble. The women still wear the same style clothes as in the time before Christ. We stopped at the old well of the little town and ate dinner. Through that country they raise wheat, barley and fig and olive trees, but their land looks to be very broken. But the wagon road is very good. It was built at the time when the Emperor of Germany visited Abdul Hamid, King of Turkey and came over to see the Holy Land. His visit forced the Turkish government to build the roads to Tiberia, Nazareth and Haifa.

From Kana to Nazareth is a distance of 12 miles and we reached the latter city about four o'clock in the evening. We stopped at an American hotel, operated by a Syrian. At the hotel we met three women from Illinois and Wisconsin. Every body knows Nazareth was the home of Jesus Christ. It is a beautiful city, located on a circle of hills. Most of the buildings are convents, churches and orphans' homes. We first went to the church where Mary received the news of the boy (Jesus) from the Angel Gabriel. The old house is still plainly shown.

If I possibly can write the balance of our trip I will do so, but I believe it will take two more letters to finish it up. Best wishes to all; we are all enjoying the best of health.

DAILY DIET HINTS

Food Specialist.

GREEN CORN.

Green sweet corn is a common article of food in summer.
It contains all the elements of nutrition and its starch is much more easily digested than that of the ripe, hardened grain, but much of it is liable to be swallowed without thorough mastication, and then it will be imperfectly digested, the outer shell being impenetrable by the digestive fluids. It needs little cooking; three minutes in boiling water and two hours in the fireless cooker is enough. Corn so prepared may serve well as a full meal for growing children, much better than white bread, potatoes, pie, meat and cake.
The boy especially who cannot enjoy such a meal should be taken from school and turned out to grass.

HOW TO CURE WITH MUSIC.

Investigators Find Certain Tunes Benefit the Sick.

Listen, you men of medicine, and give heed, you women who wait and watch within the hospital wards and in the sickrooms of our homes.

Here is a creed that is new, yet old, that has at its back the fervent faith of a great theologian and thinker and the practical indorsement of hard headed physicians.

It is the science of healing by music.
Serious continuous experiments are being made by men whose sincerity and scientific attainments are above question, and they assert that the results already attained have astonished the most sanguine among them.

The tests have been and are being made in the Samaritan hospital, Broad and Ontario streets, Philadelphia, under the direct supervision of the president of that institution, the Rev. Dr.
Russell H. Conwell, famous throughout America for the breadth and force of his opinions and the eloquence with which he enunciates them from pulpit and lecture platform. They are fully verified in all their details by Dr. Wil-ham Haehnlen and the other physicians and surgeons comprising the staff of the Samaritan hospital.

These men and the nurses who have aided in making all the observations unite in testifying to the beneficial effect upon the temperature and pulsations of their patients of certain musical airs and the evil and depressing influence of other tunes.

They found that the old rich melody of the hymn "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" brought patients forth from the trance of anaesthesia with none of the nausea and feverish symptoms that usually attend an awakening.

They further found that fever was abated and restlessness reduced by that fine old song "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton," that "Dixie" calmed a patient who had delirium and that "Junata."
"The Last Rose of Summer" and a number of other soft phrased melodies sent pain racked invalids into soothing, healing slumber.

In the course of the experimentation Dr. Conwell and the physicians discovered that a number of songs produced injurious effects upon the patients.
Among these disturbing tunes were many hymns. "Abide With Me," "Floyelle's Hymn," "Behold a Stranger at the Door" and "In the Hour of Trial" were distinctly unfavorable in their results. "Ben Bolt," "The Star Spangled Banner" and the dead march from "Saul" produced the worst effects of all the tunes.

UNCEASING MISERY.

Hickman Kidney Sufferers Get Little Rest or Comfort.

There is little sleep, little rest, little peace for the sufferer from kidney trouble. Life is one continual round of pain. You can't rest at night with a bad back, with twinges and "stabs" of pain, with annoying urinary disorders, backaches, lameness and nervousness. You can't be comfortable at work with darting pains and blinding dizzy spells. Neglect these ailments and serious troubles follow. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of disorder. You will work better as the kidneys get better, rest better as your back grows stronger.

Proof in Hickman testimony:

C. A. Watson, of Hickman, Ky., says: "For some time I was a victim of kidney complaint. There were pains in the small of my back, which were always more severe when I stooped, or lifted. My back ached at night and when I arose in the morning, I was very lame. I became tired and occasionally suffered from nervous spells. Headaches bothered me and I was subject to dizzy spells during which there was a blurring of my sight. When I caught cold, it settled on my kidneys and at such times, the passages of the kidney secretions became too frequent. This weakness was particularly annoying during the night and I was often forced to arise several times. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at Helm & Ellison's Drug Store and two days after using them I received relief. After I had taken the contents of the box, I was cured. I never lose an opportunity to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to other kidney sufferers and shall always keep them in the house."

The reclamation of nearly 200,000 acres of swamp lands in Western Tennessee was assured by a supreme Court decision last week holding the drainage law of 1909 to be constitutional and valid and the way was opened for the reclamation of millions of acres throughout the State. Drainage and reclamation projects in Gibson, Obion and Weakley counties, involving in all about 200,000 acres, hinge on this decision. The land lies in the bottom of the Forked Deer and Obion rivers.

The Democracy of Kentucky—what is it? What are we for? In the old days the Democratic party of Kentucky was the people. To-day the Democratic party—getting down to the guts of the thing—is composed of not over fifteen men. And the Republican party is not much better off —leaving out its progressive element.
Upon what rocks shall we ship-wreck?
The only hope for a safe landing is a union of the so-called "progressive" elements of the two parties. Something must be done. the old battleship "Kentucky" is leaking badly and the waves are rolling high.—

Postmaster Barnes has been directed to go to Princeton, Ind., and attend a school of instruction there on June 5th and 6th, so as to become familiar with the duties and work attendant upon the postal savings department.

Double Protection

Fire departments are necessary and save much property, but they cannot be relied upon always. Although they may put out the fire, water may do as much damage as the fire. Fire Insurance protects you against the loss by fire as well as the loss by water damage. A fire insurance policy in a reliable company with a reputation for fair dealing and promptness is your best protection. We represent only such companies.

WARNING!

Parties having wiring done, or making any changes in their wiring, must have a permit from this company, in order that our records will show the consumption.

The reason for this is obvious, as we have transformers that reduce the current, and to overload one of these will mean a burn-out, entailing a considerable loss to this company.

Any electrician tapping our lines or making a change, without a permit, will be immediately prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

INDICTED FOR LAND FRAUD

MINNESOTA FEDERAL WARRANTS OUT FOR REALTY MEN.

Corporations With Washington Connections Said to Be Involved in Inducing False Swearing.

Fergus Falls, Minn., May 30.—The grand jury in the United States court here completed the investigation of the Indian land fraud cases and brought in a batch of indictments. The exact number was not divulged.

The persons indicted have not yet been arrested. It is said several real estate dealers of the White Earth reservation district are included in the list.

Bench warrants have been issued and the men involved will be brought in by federal officers and arraigned this week.

The indictments are the result of a federal investigation of the alleged fraudulent transfer of Indian lands on the White Earth reservation under the Clapp bill permitting mixed bloods, as enrolled in the federal lists, to dispose of their lands. Many full-bloods, it is said, have been induced to swear they were mixed bloods and dispose of their property.

JUDGE SAYS 'NIGGER' IS BAD

Georgia Court Threatens Disbarment When Lawyers Perists in Pronunciation.

Macon, Mo., May 30.—Judge Emory Speer of the United States circuit court threatened Thoms B. Felder, attorney general-elect of Georgia, with disbarment in his court unless he refrained from describing the negro plaintiff in a peonage case as a "nigger."

Finally Judge Speer said: "Mr. Felder, don't you think the future attorney general of the state of Georgia can spare us this 'nigger, nigger, nigger'?"

Felder replied hotly: "I think I know my duties and rights as a lawyer, an American lawyer practicing in an American court."

Judge Speer retorted: "You are exceeding those rights, and if you continue on this line and insist upon using this language, which is nothing but an appeal to the lowest race prejudice, I will have to sever our relations not only in this case, but in all cases in this court."

FOG LATEST WAR DEVICE

Inventor Offers to Sell Patents to the United States to Enable it to Fool the Enemy.

Washington, May 30.—Archibald Watkins, who describes himself as "an experienced inventor," has offered to sell to the government a dirigible fog to be used in case of war for the purpose of confounding an enemy.

Watkins offered the patents for handling the fog to Postmaster General Hitchcock because, he said, he understood that President Taft had more faith in the judgment of his postmaster general than in any other cabinet officer.

Watkins said that by the use of his patent fogs could be controlled with ease and, in case of an attempted invasion, either by land, water or in an airship, the fog could be sent out to surround the enemy and keep him hopelessly floundering in the dark.

Mormons Ask a Million.

New Orleans, May 30.—Joseph Smith of Salt Lake City, just arrived from Mexico, departed for Washington to seek government aid in obtaining $1,000,000 indemnity from the Mexican government for damages done to Mormon settlers in the Mexican revolution.

Ammonia Fumes Kill Workman.

Columbus, O., May 30.—Edwin L. Hopkins was killed by ammonia fumes when a bolt of lightning caused the explosion of a 50-gallon tank in an ice plant. Harry Miller and John Thomas, working with him, were overcome, but were rescued, and will recover.

Senator Bob Taylor of Tennessee is quoted as saying to a St. Louis Republic reporter, "Champ Clark will be the next President."

Carter Gets 99 Years.

The jury in the case of Lee Carter, of Fulton, who was being tried at Clinton for murder, returned a verdict of guilty Friday, and fixed his punishment at 99 years in the state penitentiary.

Carter was on trial for the murder of Frank Bolcom, a young man of Seattle, Wash., who was shot and killed by Carter in the latter part of January of this year in Fulton.

The killing of young Bolcom, who was killed after an altercation with Carter on Lake street, near the American Cafe, is well remembered.

The trial was held in Clinton, in Hickman county, on account of it being thought that a jury could not be found in this county.

Mr. Carter was confined in the Hickman jail several weeks, and will be remembered as having started a fire in the jail and creating considerable excitement. He also rapped Jailer Noonon in the face with his fist while being brought from Fulton to Hickman. A few years ago he was Chief of Police at Fulton.

Mr. Carter will, however, get a new trial, Judge Bugg admitting that he erred in giving instructions to the jury.

The Old Cabinet Maker says:

There was a time when we used to put things in the cellar or the well to keep them cool, put nowadays we have miniature ice houses, where we may store the eatables during the hot weather, from day to day. For one reason alone you can't afford to buy a poor one, for you pay the difference in price in the ice you have to buy. When you get one from us, right here at home, people you know, you are bound to get the right kind. First, we don't handle any other kind, and even if we wanted to we couldn't afford to for just figure how much it would hurt us if we sold you an ice burner for a refrigerator. If you have one now that is using too much ice, what you save in a single season on the ice bill will buy you a good one.

Fine Bottom Farm of 156 Acres
Well Improved, Already Stocked
For Only $35 an Acre....

Owner has other business opportunities and will sell this place at much less than it is worth. It can be had with buildings, stock, farming implements and poultry already on it.

Two residences on place, in only moderate repair, but two good barns, one 36 and the other 32 feet, with sheds on sides. Nice young bearing orchard, 50 bushels apples, plenty of plums, etc. 100 acres of the place in cultivation; produces 60 bushels corn, a bale of cotton per acre, also alfalfa, oats, wheat, potatoes and all other crops of this section. A fine stock farm, now stocked with registered hogs of three kinds, live stock and about 200 chickens, guineas, etc., which may be bought with place. All under good American wire fence, but outside is a range of 5,000 acres for stock. Three good wells and pumps on farm.

Land is next to river, but is being added to yearly by river deposits. No better soil under the sun. Place will stand any kind of investigation you may care to make.

This is an extremely low price, as low as any unimproved land, but absolutely nothing wrong with the farm or its title. Makes a good crop every year. If you want either a Fulton county farm or a good investment, it will pay you to buy this place.

DIAZ NEPHEW TO ASSIST

With Three Thousand Troops, Kin of the Ex-President Awaits Word From Havana—Ecclesiastical Party Ready to Support.

Mexico City, May 30.—A counter revolution that threatens to exact far heavier toll in human life than the Maderist uprising is gathering in the southern extremity of Mexico, according to private and official advices received here from various sources.

With 3,000 well armed men under him, Felix Diaz, a nephew of the abdicated president Porfirio Diaz, is patrolling the state of Oaxaca, ostensibly keeping order and putting down anarchy. In reality, however, Felix Diaz's soldiers are said to be the nucleus of an army which will proclaim Gen. Bernardo Reyes president.

Reyes Ready to Aid. General Reyes is said to be ready to throw his influence and fortune with the Felix Diaz uprising and to take personal command of the army. And behind Diaz and General Reyes looms up the supporting figure of the former president of the republic Porfirio Diaz himself, who, according to reports, will lend his prestige and fortune to the task of making Reyes his successor as dictator of the republic.

The powerful ecclesiastical party in Mexico is also said to be ready to support the Reyes movement. There are two other menacing phases of the chaotic state which exists throughout Mexico. One is the possibility of an open break between Gen. Francisco I. Madero and Provisional President De la Barra because of what De la Barra views as the assumption to presume authority by the insurrecto leader; the second is the discovery of a plot against the life of Madero and the charge that it has been promoted by some of the wealthiest men in Mexico. These men, it is said, may be driven by the revelations of the plot to support the Reyes revolution.

Mrs. Adelaide Hunt, Former Trained Nurse, Drinks Poison by Mistake in Her Home.

St. Louis, May 30.—A mistake against which she probably had been cautioned hundreds of times while studying to become a trained nurse caused the death of Mrs. Adelaide Hunt of 53 Lockwood avenue, when she drank carbolic acid, mistaking it for other medicine.

Mrs. Hunt had been slightly ill for several months. Medicine prescribed for her was on a shelf in a dark room. By mistake she seized the wrong bottle and poured two ounces in a tumbler and drank the contents.

Her screams brought her husband to her aid. She was dead before physicians reached the home.

The Courier's Weekly Sermon
By PASTOR RUSSELL

ASCENDED UP ON HIGH WHERE HE WAS BEFORE

How He Led a Multitude of Captives.

What the Ascension of Jesus Implied For Himself and For the World.

Baltimore, Md.,
May 21.—Pastor
Russell of the Brooklyn Tabernacle preached here twice today to large and attentive audiences. We report
one of his discourses from the text, "When He ascended up on high
He led a multitude of captives" (Ephesians iv, 8-10).

In this week occurs the anniversary of Jesus' ascension. In one sense of the word our Lord ascended (that is, from human nature and the tomb, to the divine nature and immortality) at the time of His resurrection from the dead. He tarried, however, for forty days, with the Apostles for their establishment and instruction—He on the spirit plane, invisible to them, except when He manifested Himself by appearing miraculously in various forms to convince them that He was no longer deceased, and also that He was no longer confined to human conditions. "Flesh and Blood Cannot Inherit the Kingdom of God."

We are not, however, to suppose for a moment that Jesus ascended a fleshly or human being; we remember, on the contrary, that "flesh and blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God," and that "He was put to death in the flesh but quickened in the spirit," and that thenceforth, as the Apostle declares, "The Lord is that Spirit" (II Corinthians iii, 17).

To suppose that Jesus went to heaven as a man is to mistake the significance of His title, The Son of Man, which He maintains, as identifying Him with His great redemptive work—as one of His many titles. To suppose that Jesus is a human being in heaven would be to suppose that He is still as when in the flesh, "a little lower than the angels," whereas the Scriptures declare that He has ascended far higher, so that all the angels of God, as well as men, are commanded to worship Him. To suppose Jesus in heaven a human being would be to suppose Him out of all harmony with heavenly, spiritual conditions and surroundings.

Moreover, are we not told that the Church of Christ will be changed from the human to the spirit condition in the resurrection, and that this change will make the "elect of God" like their Redeemer, so that they may see Him as He is, not as He was—that they may see Him in glory, honor and immortality, exaltation, and not as the humiliated One Who was made flesh that He might sacrifice His flesh on man's behalf? When we so thought we forgot the Scriptural declaration that "flesh and blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God."

A Multitude of Captives.

resents the ascension of Jesus from the earthly plane to the heavenly as the triumph of a great Conqueror. Sin had gained ascendancy over Adam and his race, and had brought mankind low to the dust, mentally, morally and physically. Moreover, this victory over man had been gained in a legal manner—through one man's disobedience (Romans v, 12). The Logos divested Himself of His glory on the spirit plane, was made flesh, fulfilled the demands of the Law, proved Himself competent to pay the sinners' ransom-price, and gave Himself a ransom for all, "to be testified in due time" (I Timothy ii, 6).

Thus the great Conqueror is seen returning to the heavenly state, acclaimed by the Heavenly Host; and following Him far down the centuries, the prophetic view saw, first the Church, the "Royal Priesthood," "His brethren," "His Bride," delivered from the power of sin and death, through the merit of His blood. And these were but the first fruits of a following host—"a kind of first fruits to God of His creatures," rescued from sin and from death (James i, 18; Revelation xiv, 4).

Later on, stretching down for a thousand years beyond the Church's deliverance, the prophetic pen foretells countless hosts of every-nation, people, kindred and tongue, to be delivered from the power of sin and death through the merit of Him Who died, "the Just for the unjust." Now the Savior of the Church, His Bride, He will shortly be the Savior of the world, its Great King, Great Teacher, Great Priest, Great Mediator. During the thousand years of His reign Satan will be bound, ignorance and superstition shall become scattered before the light of the New Dispensation, mankind shall be uplifted to human perfection and blessed with an earthly Eden—all that was lost by Adam and redeemed for man through the death of Jesus.

Then will come the glorious consummation, when all who will have refused Divine grace shall have been destroyed in the Second Death—then shall be heard every creature in heaven and on earth and under the earth saying, "Glory to God in the Highest."

A Test.

"Is your friend up in Maine having success with his hunting?"
"Oh, yes. He's shot so many guides that they are getting afraid to go with him."

So it is.

"It is better to have the good will than the ill will of a man."
"Yes, but it is better to have the ill will of some men than to have to laugh at their funny stories."

Should Be Indictable.

"A Kansas editor has something to say about the 'ting-a-ling' toque."
"Worn by the village belle, no doubt."

Her Instrument.

"When a girl fishes for admirers, what kind of a line does she use?"
"A beau line, of course."

Nurse Says:

"I know what is good for young and old people," writes Mrs. Clara Dykstra, a trained nurse of South Bellingham, Wash., "and will say that I consider Cardui the best medicine for girls and women. It makes them feel like new persons, relieves their pain and regulates womanly troubles. 'Both my daughter and I received great benefit.'"

A WINTER NIGHT.

When the fire roars up the chimney
And the winds of winter blow,
And the scent of life's sweet morning
Recalls the long ago,
And fancy's sprites are building
Dream castles in the blaze,
We'll hear soft voices singing
The songs of other days.

When the flames are slowly fading—
No more they brightly leap—
And weary eyes are turning To the poppy realm of sleep,
The world may crack and groan beneath
The weight of winter's hand, We'll follow far where roses are,
The road to Slumberland!

His Choice.

"Yes," said the specialist, as he stood at the bedside of the miser millionaire, "I can cure you."
"But what will it cost?" came feebly from the lips of the sick man.
The specialist made a swift mental calculation. "Ninety-five dollars," was his answer.
"Can't you shade your figure a little?" wailed the other. "The undertaker's bid is much less."—Lippincott's.

Then Silence Reigned.

The boy terror was in evidence again. His parents had invited some friends to dine, among them being his sister's beau, who took the incorrigible on his knee.

During a lull in the conversation the young hopeful suddenly yelled out:

"Mr. Brown, is I as heavy as sister?"
But no one seemed to hear him!

Not Hard to Bear.

Great Author (who sells by subscription)—So you are a book agent, eh? I presume you meet with a good deal of ill treatment.

Agent—Yes, every day.
"I don't see how you stand it."
"Well, you see, I know it isn't because folks dislike me personally. It's because they have such a contempt for the books."—New York Weekly.

Had Done it, Too.

Knicker—Banking interests sometimes buy what they don't want, to avert a panic.

Bocker—As I buy my wife a dress.
—Harper's Bazar.

AN EXPLANATION.

Cholly—Er—really, I can't understand why some fellows get rich and I always stay so poor.

Miss Slick—Perhaps it's because so many people amuse themselves at your expense.

An Invitation Withdrawn.

Come, fly with me—
Oh, I forgot
That hobbie skirt;
You'd better not.

How It Happened.

He was limping down the street with one arm in a sling and both eyes in mourning.

"What's the matter?" queried a friend. "Automobile accident?"

"No," replied the other, sadly. "I met a man who couldn't take a joke."
